City Clerk Jerrica Vansylyvong-Bizier reported that 15,941 out of 22,456 registered Dover voters cast ballots in the general election, a 71% turnout, up from 66.3% turnout in the 2022 general election. The 2024 presidential election had an 82.5% turnout.

Ward 3 had the highest turnout of registered voters with 3,207 ballots cast out of 4,305 registered voters – a 74.5% turnout. Ward 4 followed with a 72.4% turnout, Ward 6 with 71.5%, Ward 5 with 70.0%, Ward 2 with 68.6%, and Ward 1 with 68.2%.

Fall clean-up of unpermitted signs begins next week

The City of Dover Department of Planning and Community Development will begin cleaning up “off-premise” signs next week, removing signs placed on trees, utility poles, or within the right-of-way without permission, including illegally placed campaign signs.

In Dover, non-political temporary signs are permitted only in selected commercial zoning districts and must meet dimensional and liability requirements. With a few exceptions, temporary signs not placed on the owner’s property — known as off-premise signs — are prohibited throughout Dover. State law prohibits placing political signs on public property, including highway rights-of-way, or on private property without the owner’s consent. All legally placed political signs must be removed no later than the second Friday following the election, Friday, Nov. 13, 2026.

The city advises sign owners to remove illegally placed signs prior to the clean-up, which will occur throughout the week of November 9, 2026. The city will hold any sign it collects at City Hall for 30 days before recycling or destroying it, unless the owner claims it. Repeat offenders may be prosecuted and fined.

Sign clean-ups remove signs placed without permission, such as those often found attached to roadside trees and utility poles or on the ground along roadsides. These signs can cause a safety hazard for motorists and pedestrians or create a visual blight that is unsightly for residents and visitors.

The City of Dover’s sign regulations are available online, in Section 170-32 of the city’s zoning ordinance. Application for sign permits may also be completed online. For guidance on the placement of political advertising, refer to New Hampshire state law RSA 664:17 “Placement and Removal of Political Advertising.”

For more information, contact Zoning Administrator Paul R. Crouser at 603-516-6008 or p.crouser@dover.nh.gov.

Back River Road veterans hall to be used as temporary warming center if needed

Strafford County warming center targeted to open Dec. 15

The City of Dover announced it will use a temporary emergency cold-weather warming center starting Nov. 15, 2026, if needed before the new permanent Strafford County warming center opens.

The Strafford County warming center was originally targeted to open by Nov. 15, but construction delays have pushed the opening date to Dec. 15.

Following life safety inspections, the Veterans Building at 156 Back River Road in Dover has been cleared for use as the temporary warming center. The City of Dover owns the building. The McConnell Center will not be used as a warming center as previously reported.

Strafford County's contracted warming center operator, East Coast Evolution Leadership, will also operate at the Veterans Building, if needed, and coordinate transportation. The building has space for sleeping cots.

The activation of the emergency cold-weather warming center is determined by the Emergency Management Directors of Dover, Rochester and Somersworth. It is activated when extreme or severe weather conditions are predicted to occur between the hours of 4 p.m. and 9 a.m., including:

- Ambient air temperatures at or below 28 degrees, or wind chill temperatures at or below 20 degrees, for more than four consecutive hours;
- A weather event defined with "blizzard" or "Nor'easter" conditions involving significant precipitation and wind.

The warming center may also be activated when there is a quick drop of temperatures, heavy snowfall greater than six inches, heavy rainfall greater than two inches, and a half-inch of heavy precipitation of ice or sleet with temperatures at or below 30 degrees.

The Strafford County warming center is being built on Strafford County land on County Farm Road in Dover. The county is supplying the land at no cost, and the tri-cities of Dover, Rochester and Somersworth are dividing $3.5 million project by each city's portion of the combined equalized assessed property value, with Rochester's share $1,316,593, Somersworth's share at $484,593, and Dover's share at $1,698,878.

Detours remain in effect for Central Avenue water work for one more week

Garrison Hill to be closed during construction hours

Southbound vehicle traffic will continue to be detoured around the Central Avenue water main work during construction hours next week. Commercial truck traffic will be detoured via Glenwood Avenue and Sixth Street. Passenger vehicle traffic will be detoured via Abbott Street, Mount Vernon Street, and Reservoir Street.

The detour will remain in effect until water main work moves to Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive, the road that leads up Garrison Hill, which is anticipated to occur late next week. Construction hours are typically Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

When work occurs on Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive, including at its Central Avenue intersection, the road will be closed to all non-local traffic during construction hours.

The work is part of the Central Avenue Urban Core Water Improvements to replace a critical water transmission line on Central Avenue from Broadway to Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive, and on Abbey Sawyer Memorial Drive to the water tank. S.U.R. Construction, Inc., of Rochester, is the contractor for the project.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Rollins Road water main work continues

Water outage planned for Thursday to connect new water main

Water main work will continue on Rollins Road next week as part of the project to replace the water main and services on Highland Avenue and a section of Rollins Road.

Motorists should anticipate Rollins Road to be reduced to one lane of alternating traffic when work is ongoing.

On Thursday, Nov. 12, the contractor plans to connect the new water main to the existing one, which will require water service interruptions from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. for customers on Highland Avenue and on Rollins Road from the Oak Street intersection to the Wentworth Greenhouses.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Daily lane closures on Spaulding Turnpike southbound continue through Nov. 16

Daily lane closures are in effect on the southbound Spaulding Turnpike in Dover as work continues to demolish the General Sullivan Bridge.

Weather permitting, lane closures will be in effect from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. between mile markers 4.2 and 3.6. The closures are expected to continue through approximately Monday, Nov. 16. The lane closures will allow crews to remove the center span of the General Sullivan Bridge.

The work is part of the ongoing demolition of the General Sullivan Bridge between Dover and Newington. Reed & Reed Inc. of Woolwich, Maine, is the general contractor for the $28.4 million project, which is scheduled for completion in summer 2027.

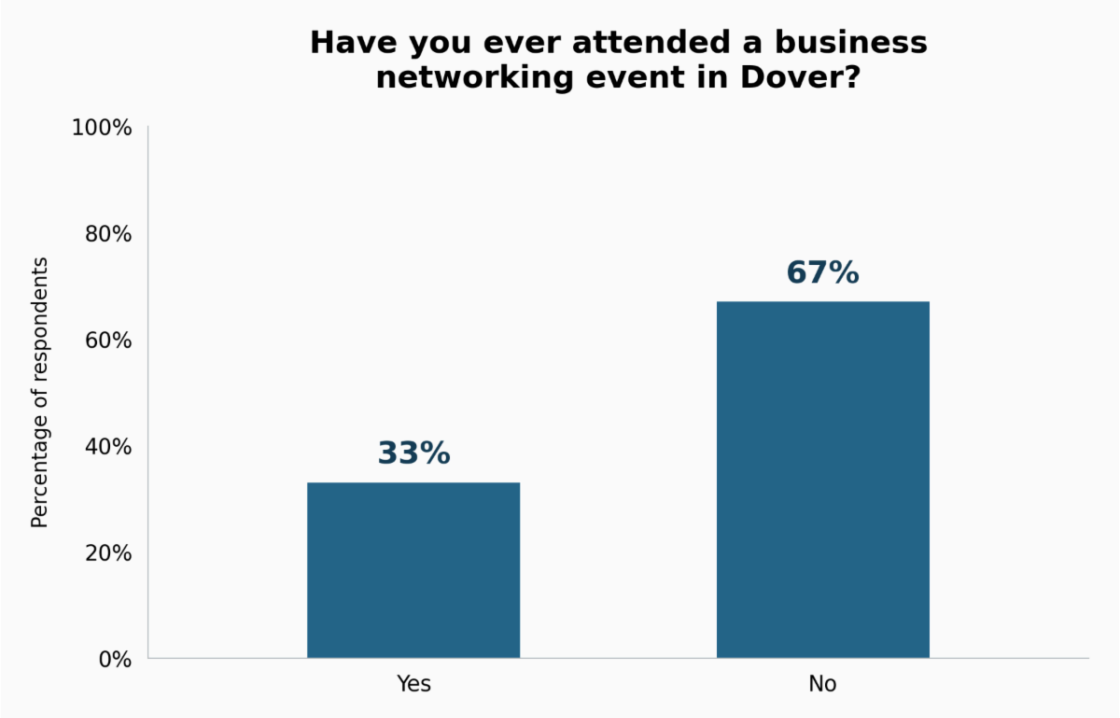
Here are the results from last week's poll:



The following events are from various historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information.

Nov. 8, 1683 — An unusual darkness settled over Dover from about 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The historical account compared it to a total eclipse of the sun and suggested that a thick, low cloud might have caused it. The description records the striking appearance of the sky, but leaves the cause uncertain.

Nov. 10, 1753 — Committees representing Dover and Rochester completed a survey of the boundary between the two towns. Their work began at a dry pitch pine tree at Mascot Point on the Salmon Falls River. Known as a perambulation, the inspection involved tracing the town line and identifying its markers. The tree served as a reference point in the written description of where one community ended and the other began.

Nov. 6, 1818 — Franklin Academy opened in Dover, providing a private school where students could prepare for college. Supported by local donors, including Daniel Waldron, who contributed land, the academy occupied a two-story red brick building on a hill overlooking Central Avenue, between Waldron and Orchard streets. Its dedication took place Dec. 5, and classes began two days later. A bell tower stood above the entrance. Trustee Capt. William Flagg donated the bell after taking it from a merchant vessel captured while he commanded a privateer during the War of 1812. The academy remained open until 1896. By then, homes and factories surrounded grounds that had once included broad lawns.

Nov. 11, 1923 — About 800 spectators were turned away when police prohibited a scheduled football game at Guppy Park. Members of the Men's Bible Class at Washington Street Baptist Church had objected to the Sunday contest at police headquarters, prompting officers to intervene. An account published the following day described the cancellation as the opening of a campaign against Sunday athletics, documenting a local dispute over how the Sabbath should be observed.

Pavement crack sealing begins Nov. 16

A city contractor will be applying sealant to pavement cracks on various city streets beginning Monday, Nov. 16. The work is expected to take a couple of weeks to complete.

To complete the work, the contractor will have rolling lane closures managed by traffic flaggers.

Crack sealing is apart of the city's annual street maintenance program. Cracks in roadways allow water to filter under the pavement surface and begin to undermine the gravel base layers. Hot poured crack sealant is applied to hinder further pavement deterioration.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

City urges water conservation amid ongoing drought conditions

The City of Dover urges residents and businesses to voluntary reduce water consumption due to the ongoing regional drought conditions. These voluntary measures will remain in place until drought conditions improve.

While many communities across the region implemented mandatory water restrictions, the city anticipates voluntary water use reductions will be sufficient, said Community Services Director John Storer, who oversees the city's water system.

Current aquifer levels were discussed at the City Council's workshop on the city's water utility system on Wednesday, Sept. 2, 2026. The Dover Utilities Commission discussed groundwater levels and drought conditions at its Sept. 21 and Oct. 19 meetings.

The region has experienced drought conditions since July 8, 2025, when the U.S. Drought Monitor classified the region to be abnormally dry. Conditions worsened to moderate drought levels on Aug. 12, 2025, followed by severe drought conditions starting on Sept. 16, 2026. Severe drought conditions persisted through June 30, 2026, when conditions were upgraded to moderate drought conditions, where it has remained.

Ways to conserve water

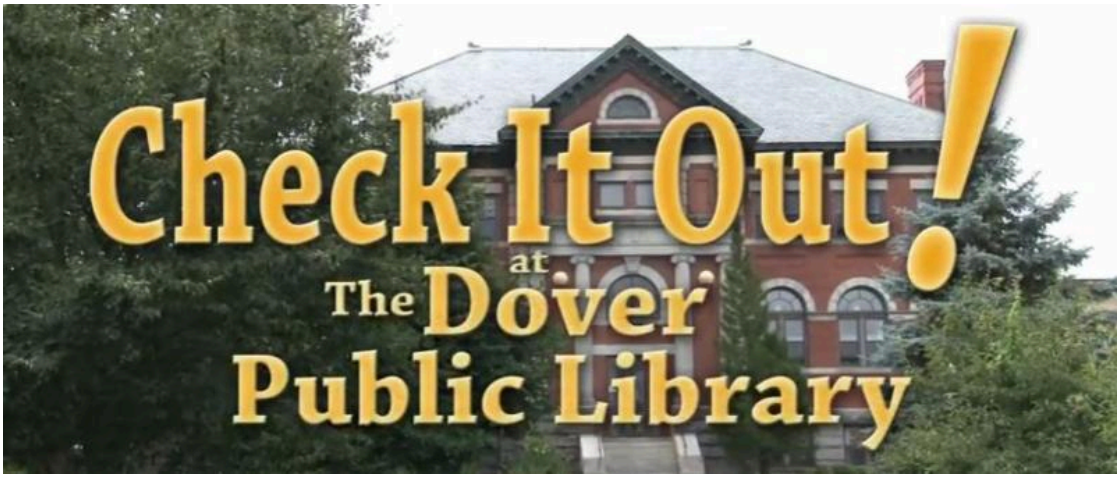
The public can conserve water in many ways:

- Limit outdoor watering. According to the EPA, irrigation accounts for 30% of residential water use nationally — about 9 billion gallons per day. Avoid irrigating during the day, especially the hottest parts of the day when evaporation is highest.
- Utilize commercial car washes. They are more efficient with water and don’t dump dirty water into the storm drains.
- Fixing leaky plumbing conserves water and saves money. Leaking faucets and toilets can waste thousands of gallons a year, leading to increased water bills.
- Be mindful of indoor water use. Take shorter showers, turn off the water when brushing teeth, and run dishwashers and washing machines only when full.

Find additional resources at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's WaterSense online resource.

Track water use, get leak alerts with ‘Eye On Water’

The city's public water customers can monitor their water usage with the Eye On Water online portal and mobile app. The system helps track daily, monthly, and yearly consumption; users can also sign up to receive alerts for potential leaks. Customers will need their account number from their water bill. For assistance, contact the Water and Sewer Billing Office at 603-516-6028.



Learn about William K. Polk in Presidential Series

Don't let the haircut fool you – this president was all business. He was so likely to go unnoticed that his wife requested that "Hail to the Chief" be played whenever he entered an event.

Join Dover Public Library virtually on Friday, Nov. 13 at 10:30 a.m. to discover some more fun facts about our eleventh president in this yearlong Presidential Series with "America's Preeminent Presidential Doodler" Heather Rogers! The program is in partnership with Ashland Public Library.

In 2026, journey through Rogers's sketchbooks as she shares her favorite tidbits, doodles, observations, and resurrection stories about the first 12 presidents. This yearlong series will take place the second Friday of the month at 10:30 a.m. and feature a new president each month. Register to receive a link to the live stream. For those unable to attend, the program will be recorded and sent to registrants via email within 48 hours of airing.

Rogers isn't a historian, an academic, or an impartial storyteller… but she has read more than one book about every U.S. president. Out of spite. She was dubbed "America's Preeminent Presidential Doodler" by one of her favorite biographers, and she's been repeating it ever since. When she's not reading or doodling history books, she's a freelance graphic designer, illustrator, and content creator.

To keep her interest during her accidental spite project, Rogers filled hundreds of sketchbook pages doodling her way through presidential biographies. Doing so heightened her curiosity and turned her into an insufferable presidential nerd. Along the way, she discovered unexpected threads connecting seemingly unconnected people, times, and events. She can't get enough of the weird trivia, coincidences, and quirks. Like the fact that English wasn't the first language of the first president born in the U.S. Or that a three-part plan was proposed to bring George Washington back to life. Don't even get her started on William Henry Harrison – he was only president for a month, but she could talk about him for hours.

For more information, visit the library's website or call 603-516-6050. Dover Public Library hours are Monday-Thursday 9 a.m.-8:30 p.m., Friday-Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m., and Sunday 1-5 p.m.

Undercovering the Plymouth Blitz

On the night of April 22, 1941, the German Luftwaffe descended on Plymouth, England. The city had been the target of bombings since March, but this time was different. Just after midnight, a bomb tore through one wing of the Portland Square Air Raid Shelter. Seventy-one people were killed. It was the city's largest loss of civilian life in the Plymouth Blitz.

Learn more about the Portland Square tragedy with Dover Public Library virtually on Wednesday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. In "Uncovering the Plymouth Blitz: Researching & Remembering One of WWII's Deadliest Air Raids", Author and Researcher Michael C. McLaughlin will provide an intimate, behind-the-scenes look into the history and making of his book of the same name.

This program is in partnership with Tewksbury Public Library. Register to receive a link to the live stream. The presentation will also be recorded and sent to registrants unable to attend live within 48 hours of the program.

Despite being one of WWII England's most devastating civilian incidents, key human elements of the Portland Square tragedy remain scattered and untold—until now. In this virtual workshop, trace McLaughlin's research journey, discover the diverse primary sources he used to reconstruct this forgotten event, and hear compelling excerpts from the book. Explore how piecing together archival fragments, eyewitness accounts, and hidden records can rescue long-buried personal stories from the ashes of history.

McLaughlin is an Associate Fellow of the Royal Historical Society and a member of the Historical Association, the Old Plymouth Society, the Devon Family History Society, the British Association for Local History, the North American Conference on British Studies, and the International Churchill Society. His research has appeared in the Plymouth Herald and in scholarly and professional journals, including Their Finest Hour, Omega, Mortality, The Historian, the Journal of the Institute for Cemetery and Crematorium Management, and the Devon Family Historian. A graduate of the College of the Holy Cross and the University of Notre Dame, he is pursuing his PhD at the University of Plymouth, UK.

The program is free and open to the public. For more information, visit the library's website or call 603-516-6050. Dover Public Library hours are Monday-Thursday 9 a.m.-8:30 p.m., Friday-Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m., and Sunday 1-5 p.m.

Blood donations saves lives

Every two seconds someone in the U.S. needs blood. It is essential for surgeries, cancer treatment, chronic illnesses, and traumatic injuries. Whether a patient receives whole blood, red cells, platelets or plasma, this lifesaving care starts with one person making a generous donation.

Thousands of patients rely on lifesaving blood donations every day. The average red blood cell transfusion is approximately 3 units; a single car accident victim can require as many as 100 units of blood. The need for blood is constant.

Schedule a blood donation appointment through the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Learn more about the donation process.
