update on the Dover Community Power program. The Community Power Coalition of New Hampshire, of which Dover is a charter member, recently announced electric rates for community power programs that launch in May or June, which Kaspari will review. Part of the workshop discussion is to get consensus from the City Council on whether it would like to launch the program this year or wait until next year.

Dover became a member of the Community Power Coalition of New Hampshire (CPCNH) with the primary objectives of creating savings for customers, supporting local businesses, and reducing fossil fuel consumption while enhancing electricity grid reliability. CPCNH works like a cooperative, utilizing the combined purchasing power of participating customers within the active communities. The Dover Community Power program is authorized under RSA 53:E to provide electricity supply service for the city's residents, businesses, municipal operations, and other types of customers on a competitive and voluntary basis. The goal is for the participating communities to leverage their combined purchasing power to create savings and new value for customers.

Financial policies update

Annually the City Council is provided with a scorecard of the city's compliance with its financial policies. In years past, this has been provided to the City Council with the presentation of the city's Annual Comprehensive Financial Report (ACFR). This year it will be provided in a workshop session to provide the City Council ample time for discussion and review of the city's existing financial policies. Included will be a comparison of Dover's financial ratios to Moody's Investors Service median ratios for local governments similar in size to Dover.

The workshop begins at 7 p.m. and will be televised on Channel 22 and online at <https://dovernh.viebit.com>, where it will also be available for on-demand viewing.

The Chestnut Street bridge this morning, Friday, April 28, shortly after opening to traffic. The bridge had been closed for repairs since January.

Chestnut Street bridge opens to traffic

The Chestnut Street bridge over the Cochecho River is now open to traffic as of 8 a.m. today, Friday, April 28. COAST bus will resume its regular service on Chestnut Street this morning.

The bridge has been closed for rehabilitation since Jan. 3, 2023, and was scheduled to open by May 19, 2023. The project included removing the pavement, membrane, and sidewalks on the bridge, repairing deteriorated concrete in the bridge deck, reconstructing the bridge sidewalks, and installing a new bridge membrane, new bridge pavement, and new wearing-course pavement.

This week, crews completed paving, lane striping, and general cleanup. The contractor will complete minor punch-list items in the near future, which may require intermittent lane shifts or road closures to complete. Additional sidewalk work on both sides of the bridge is expected later in conjunction with private utility work. This area is outside the work limits and scope of the current project.

In addition to being completed ahead of schedule, the project is under the budget allocated by City Council in late 2022.

For more information, contact Community Services at 603-516-6450.

Waterfront Committee meets Tuesday, will vote on revised development agreement

The Cochecho Waterfront Development Advisory Committee will meet on Tuesday, May 2, to review and possibly vote to endorse proposed amendments to the 2019 Land Disposition and Development Agreement (LDA) between the city and the waterfront developer.

City staff has tentatively negotiated the amendments with the developer Cathartes through their waterfront business entity, CPI Management, LLC. City Attorney Joshua Wyatt will be at the CWDAC meeting to review the amendments and answer questions from committee members. The City Council is set to take up the amendments at its May 10 meeting.

Some of the proposed terms include changes to the public improvements construction schedule. It also includes updating the guaranteed minimum assessed values (GMV) on the private development. Originally the GMV amount was set at a maximum of $15 million for all buildings. In the proposed third amendment, the aggregate GMV would increase to $35 million applicable no later than FY2026, $66 million applicable no later than FY2029, and $75.5 million applicable no later than FY2032.

Click here for the summary of changes to the LDA. Click here for the proposed amended LDA.

The meeting begins at 5:30 p.m. in Room 305 of the McConnell Center and will be televised on Channel 22 and online at <https://dovernh.viebit.com>, where it will also be available for on-demand viewing. Click here for the complete agenda.

Community Services workers installed the Voyage Mark Solar System exhibit on the Community Trail earlier this week.

Grand opening of Voyage Mark II Solar System Community Trail exhibit on May 2

The City of Dover will hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Tuesday, May 2, at 6 p.m., to celebrate the installation of the Voyage Mark II Solar System exhibit on the Dover Community Trail. City officials and community leaders will be in attendance for the event, which will be taking place at the Fisher Street Trailhead, and the public is welcome to attend.

The exhibit is an accurate 1-to-10-billion scale model of our solar system, similar to the Voyage Mark I exhibit at the National Mall in Washington, D.C., providing visitors with a conceptual understanding of Earth's place in space and the nature of worlds across our solar system.

Dover is one of only 13 communities in the country with this exhibit, which includes informational plaques and models along the Dover Community Trail. The journey begins with the sun at the Fisher Street Trailhead. Moving south along the trail, visitors will see and understand the spacing of the planets and moons. The journey ends at the Rutland Street Trailhead, where the dwarf planet Pluto can be found.

This exhibit is a permanent installation. It is a joint initiative between the Dover School District, the Department of Planning and Community Development, and the Community Trail Advisory Committee. The exhibit was installed by the Community Services Department.

Planning Department releases video update on 'Distinctly Dover' initiative

In a video released this week, Erin Bassegio, Outreach Coordinator for the City of Dover's Office of Planning and Community Development, offers an update on Distinctly Dover, the ongoing initiative to update the Vision Chapter of the City's Master Plan. The video provides an overview of the Vision Chapter's current status, highlights recent accomplishments, and outlines the next steps in the planning process.

The Master Plan serves as a blueprint for the City of Dover's future growth, infrastructure, land use, and community development. The current update aims to create a plan that reflects the unique character and aspirations of the city while addressing the challenges and opportunities presented by growth and change.

In the video, Bassegio emphasizes the importance of public input in shaping the Vision Chapter, detailing the various outreach events and engagement opportunities that have taken place thus far. She also encourages residents to continue participating in the process, including an online poll.

The video update can be viewed on the City of Dover's website at <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/planning/master-plan/distinctly-dover/>. Residents are encouraged to visit the site to learn more about the Master Plan update, access resources, and find out about upcoming opportunities to get involved.

For further information on the Master Plan update or to provide feedback, please contact Erin Bassegio, Outreach Coordinator for the City of Dover's Office of Planning and Community Development, at (603) 516-6008 or by email at e.bassegio@doover.nh.gov.

Hydrant flushing begins Sunday night

Community Services workers will begin seasonal flushing of select Dover fire hydrants beginning Sunday night, April 30. The work is expected to take about a week.

Crews will work at night from 8 p.m. to 4 a.m.

Hydrant flushing is essential to maintain water quality and allow adequate fire flows throughout the distribution system. No disruption of water service is expected, though there may be brief times of lower water pressure. Residents may notice some discoloration of the water. This is temporary and does not pose any threat to public health.

For more information, contact the Community Services Utilities Division at 603-516-6450. For any overnight issues, contact Dover Police Dispatch at 603-742-4646.

Dover Pride Clean Up Day is May 6

One of Dover Main Street's flagship activities, Dover Pride Clean Up Day, will be held on Saturday, May 6, beginning at 8 a.m. and concluding by noon.

Join hundreds of volunteers, with help from the City of Dover's Community Services Department, to rake, prune, sweep, mulch, weed, paint, and plant multiple sites in the downtown area. Celebrate at the end with a pizza lunch courtesy of Kendall Pond Pizza.

Clean Up Day is an opportunity for community members to give a few hours of time by contributing some sweat equity to make Dover look its best for the coming tourist season. Come see friends and neighbors and meet new ones. Dover Pride Clean Up Day is a great opportunity to get out of the house and do something for our community. This civic volunteer effort is an important aspect of helping keep the downtown area clean and beautiful throughout the spring and summer and also provides cost savings to the City of Dover.

Individuals, groups, or families can volunteer for just an hour or come for the entire morning. Locations will be set up by Dover Main Street, but there are numerous spots around the city to lend a helping hand, such as Henry Law Park, the Community Trail, Joe Parks Riverwalk, Skate Park, and the Library and McConnell Center public spaces. Work will include raking, weeding, edging, sweeping, mulching, and picking up litter.

There are plenty of spots available to help. Register your commitment on the Dover Main Street website at <https://dovermainstreet.org/event.php?id=55> or visit the registration table at the Cocheco Mill courtyard on the morning of the event.

Bring your home gardening tools if you can — gloves, brooms, rakes, shovels, and wheelbarrows. Make sure to put your name on your tools. This is a rain-or-shine event, so please come prepared.

The following events are from a variety of historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information located here.

April 30, 1731 — Dover residents voted to use one and a half acres of land at Pine Hill for a public burying ground.

May 2, 1854 — The "Dover Hotel," believed to be one of the oldest public houses in New Hampshire at the time, was closed this day and later converted into tenements.

May 4, 1863 — William H. Hackett of Dover, who was killed at the battle of Antietam, was buried this day in Dover.

April 30, 1926 — The Greek Orthodox Church in Dover observed Good Friday with a parade this day, the first time it had ever done so. The parade began after Good Friday services at the church, then located on Mechanic Street. Nearly 500 uniformed servicemen from Dover marched in the parade, as well as members of the National Guard.

May 1, 1996 — After 35 years with Dover North Little League, including 15 years as president, Bob Keays stepped down from the league. Dover North officials had hoped to recognize Keays for his decades of service and commitment to the league and the children it served. But Keays, in his typically blunt manner, wouldn't have it. "I told them I didn't want nothing," Keays said at the time. "The award I got was from the children. I've got a trophy case full of trophies and plaques, and I don't need no more." Keays began coaching at Dover North in 1960. He coached for 20 years before taking over as the league's president in 1980. The highlight for Keays came in 1987 when Dover North took the Eastern Regional title and advanced to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., where they finished seventh in the world. Keays, who had worked for Dover Public Works for many years, also served four terms on the City Council. Keays died in 2008.
