City Manager presents proposed FY2025 budget to Council

Budget workshops begin next week

City Manager J. Michael Joyal, Jr. presented the proposed fiscal year 2025 budget to the City Council at its meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 14, 2024. The presentation kicks off several weeks of budget meetings, workshops, and public hearings.

The City Manager's proposed budget includes the School Board's recommended budget for the School Department, which it adopted on Jan. 16, 2024. The proposed budget and a video recording of the City Manager's presentation are posted on the FY2025 Budget Revealed webpage. Other budget meetings, presentations, and associated budget documents will be posted to this page. Video recordings of the School Board's budget review and associated budget documents are posted on the Budget Revealed page. Physical copies of the complete budget are available for review at the City Clerk's office and Dover Public Library.

The total proposed FY2025 budget totals $198,713,177 across all funds, an increase of $12,036,666, or 6.4%. The General Fund budget totals $157,993,146, an increase of $8,432,880, or 5.6%.

As proposed, the budget exceeds the tax cap calculation for the General Fund by $2,110,950, with the School Board's recommended budget being $2,136,019 above the school side of the tax cap calculation, which is slightly offset on the city side being $25,069 below its half of the tax-cap calculation. This week, Joyal told the City Council the tax cap overage results from a $2,511,925 decrease in anticipated state education funding for FY2025. For the City Council to adopt the budget as currently proposed would require a two-thirds affirmative vote by the City Council as opposed to a simple majority.

Based on the average residential property assessment of $457,687, the estimated average property tax bill, based on the proposed budget, is $9,040, an increase of $481, or 5.6%. The final tax rate for Fiscal Year 2025 will be certified by the New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration in the fall of 2024 once it has information on the adopted budget and taxable assessed property values.

The City Council will hold a public hearing on the public education side of the budget at its meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 28, 2024. The public hearing on the city-side of the budget will be held at a special meeting on Wednesday, March 20.

Dover schools seek community input on strategic priorities

The Dover School District seeks community feedback on the district's strategic priorities through an online survey. The 2.0 Strategic Plan Steering Committee, which has been meeting since last fall, developed the survey to update the priorities in the district's strategic plan.

The survey asks community members to review several proposed focus areas and rank them in order of importance for the district's success.

In addition to the community survey, separate surveys have been sent to students, parents, and staff.

Community members are asked to complete the strategic plan survey before March 1. Feedback will help shape district priorities and decision-making in the years ahead.

The strategic plan is the topic of a School Board workshop on Monday, Feb. 19, beginning at 6 p.m. in School Board Chambers, Room 306, at the McConnell Center.

City Council proclamation honors Black History Month

Dover Mayor Robert Carrier read a proclamation at the Feb. 15, 2024 City Council meeting to recognize February as Black History Month.

"Each year, the Dover City Council takes pride in recognizing February as Black History Month," said Dover Mayor Robert Carrier, reading from the proclamation. "This month is a time for honoring and exploring the culture and history of African Americans, as well as recognizing that our society's rich diversity is one of our greatest strengths."

The proclamation outlined the history of Black History Month, which originated in 1915 when Carter G. Woodson founded the Association for the Study of African American Life and History. It recognized the contributions of African Americans in helping create progress against slavery, Jim Crow laws, and the passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Carrier presented the proclamation to City Councilor At-Large Linnea Nemeth, who also serves on Dover's Committee for Racial Equity and Inclusion.

The proclamation stated there is a continued need to eliminate barriers and empower all Black people. It encouraged everyone "to recognize and confront these issues by standing in the gap at every opportunity, eliminating barriers with fearlessness and determination to empower Black people to promote and protect their health and wellness."

In the proclamation, Carrier called on Dover residents to observe February with appropriate programs, activities, and reflections. He also urged residents to continue efforts "to create a world that is more just, equitable and prosperous for all."

The full proclamation is available on the city's website at dover.nh.gov.

Assistance was requested from nearby towns, and the fire, which started in Bob's Luncheonette on the ground floor, caused an estimated $50,000 in damage.

Feb. 21, 1998 — City officials, including newly elected City Council members, School Board members, and then-Mayor Wil Boc gathered at The Loft at Strafford Farms for an inaugural event hosted by the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce.
