Officials unveil new Dover solar arrays at ribbon-cutting ceremony

During a ceremony at the Children's Museum of New Hampshire on Wednesday, Feb. 20, city officials and other dignitaries unveiled the new 318-panel solar arrays atop the Museum and Dover Indoor Pool.

The combined 101.7-kilowatt solar array on the museum and pool roofs will generate approximately 120,000 kilowatt-hours of clean electricity per year and offset more than 126,000 pounds of carbon pollution annually. The system is expected to provide roughly 30 percent of the combined electricity needs of the two facilities, but may rise to 50 percent or more once planned LED lighting and other efficiency upgrades take place. The solar array is projected to save approximately $550,000 in long-term electricity costs.

Among those in attendance at the ceremony were Dover Mayor Karen Weston, Sen. Maggie Hassan, U.S. Rep. Chris Pappas, a representative from Sen. Jeanne Shaheen's office, members of Dover's Energy Commission and Dover Rising Waters Initiative, and representatives from the Children's Museum and ReVision Energy, which donated 103 solar panels for the installation.

The ceremony also featured the unveiling of a mural created by Seacoast Charter School student Sofia Self. The teenager's art project, which was organized by the Dover Rising Waters Initiative, is intended to spark conversations about the effects of climate change.

The ceremony can be viewed on Channel 22 in Dover and online at DNTV's on-demand video portal or directly at dovernh.viebit.com/player.php?hash=ZeLRXr1LtO1.

Tree clearing begins next week at sites of upcoming water supply work in Dover and Somersworth

Crews preparing for major water infrastructure projects this spring will begin clearing trees and brush at the site of Dover's Smith and Cummings well on Monday, Feb. 25, 2019. The well's boundaries span several acres adjacent to the Spaulding Turnpike, Central Avenue and Indian Brook Crossing. The work will continue toward Webb Place in the following weeks.

Also on Feb. 25, surveying work will begin at Willand Pond, with tree and brush clearing scheduled to begin at that location the following week.

This initial work is to prepare the sites for water facilities improvements and construction in Dover and Somersworth this spring. That work includes well improvements and the construction of a 5,500-foot transmission main on New Rochester Road (Route 108). The transmission main will connect newly constructed wells on the city's north end with the Lowell Avenue Water Treatment Facility.

In addition, a new water main will be constructed on the north side of Willand Pond and connect the water supply between Dover and Somersworth, in case of an emergency. The city councils in Dover and Somersworth approved the work earlier this year.

These improvements will add about 850,000 gallons of water capacity in Dover each day.

Construction will begin this spring and continue through December 2019. While construction is under way, access to Willand Pond from New Rochester Road in Dover will be

Dover Chamber accepting scholarship applications, educator of year nominations

The Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce is now accepting applications for its Student Scholarship program which will award one area student $1,000 to be used towards post-secondary education costs. The Chamber is also collecting nominations for their annual Educator of the Year award which includes $1,000 to be used towards classroom expenses. Both programs are organized by the Chamber's Business & Education Partnership and sponsored by Measured Progress, Inc.

The Student Scholarship is awarded to a local student either entering or continuing a post-secondary education who demonstrates a commitment to their community through volunteerism while maintaining a good academic record. All applications must be submitted to the Chamber no later than 5 p.m. on April 26.

The Educator of the Year award recognizes a local education professional who employs innovative education strategies, demonstrates on-going leadership and cooperation and makes a lasting impact on their community and students. Educator of the Year nominations can be submitted by students, parents, colleagues or community members and must be received by the Chamber prior to 5 p.m. on May 10.

Scholarship applications and Educator of the Year nomination forms can be picked up at the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce, 550 Central Ave., or found online at www.dovernh.org/scholarship.

The following events are recorded in "Notable Events in the History of Dover, New Hampshire: From the First Settlement in 1623 to 1865," by George Wadleigh, and several other historical sources.

For more on the history of Dover, settled in 1623 and the oldest permanent settlement in New Hampshire and seventh oldest in the country, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street; and the Woodman Museum, Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information, located here.

Feb. 28, 1664 - Philip Chesley and Patrick Jemison were chosen to lay out the highways from Oyster River to Cochecho, make them fit for horse and foot, and bring an account of their charges to the Townsmen. Left, Hall and John Hall, Deacon, were appointed to lay out the highway from Lamperill falls to the waterside betwixt John Godder and John Martin. Thomas Beard was chosen to keep an Ordinary.

Feb. 25, 1804 - William Hurd and John Jones, for passing counterfeit ten dollar bills of the New Hampshire Bank, were sentenced by the Supreme Judicial Court, held in Dover, "to sit one hour in the pillory, pay a fine of $200 each, and costs of prosecution, and to stand committed until sentence be performed."

Feb. 23, 1814 - A barn belonging to John Tebbetts was burnt by an incendiary and with it 13 head of cattle, 50 tons of hay, and a quantity of cider.

Feb. 22, 1855 - The Piscataqua Bridge became impassable and its use was discontinued, about 500 feet of it being carried away by the ice.

Feb. 22, 1865 - The bells of the city were rung and a grand salute fired in commemoration of the fall of Charleston, S.C. and the rehoisting of the flag of the Union upon Fort Sumter.

Identify birds with Dover Library's new, loanable "Birding Bag"

The days are getting longer now and the birds are starting to sing. Do you ever wonder which bird makes that particular call? Or what those pretty yellow birds are? Check out the Dover Public Library's new Birding Bag and find out.

The Birding Bag is a backpack that contains binoculars, a bird identification book, a bird checklist and pen to mark the birds you identify, bird flash cards, a book of bird songs with speakers so you can hear the songs, a bird call, and a booklet on "Birding the New Hampshire Seacoast".

The Birding Bag may be checked out for three weeks, just like a book. You can ask for it at the Adult Circulation Desk.

For more information, call the Dover Public Library at 516-6050.

Local vet Dr. Timothy Hunt talks about your pet's dental health

Dr. Timothy Hunt, DVM will be presenting a general discussion of recent updates in Veterinary medicine dental disease and oral health for cats and dogs on Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. February is National Pet Dental Health Month! If you have questions about your dog's bad breath and how to make it go away or for tips on how to make your cat let you brush its teeth, this presentation will help you out.

Hunt was raised on a farm in Southwest Minnesota where he developed a love for animals and science, and a passion for education. Following graduation from Veterinary School in 1998, Hunt has been involved in nearly every aspect of veterinary medicine. He has practiced farm animal medicine, small animal general practice, emergency medicine, practice management consulting, and is currently operating Winichahanat Veterinary Care clinic in downtown Dover.

The program is free and open to the public.
