Get Alarmed NEW HAMPSHIRE

Dover Fire and Rescue offering free smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors

The City of Dover Fire and Rescue is partnering with the New Hampshire Fire Marshal to provide free smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors to the city's most vulnerable populations. The program is possible through a FEMA Fire Prevention and Safety Grant.

The grant program, Get Alarmed New Hampshire, is a carbon monoxide and smoke alarm distribution, installation and education program. The program targets owner-occupied homes with children five years of age and under, adults 60 years of age and older, or people living with a hearing impairment or disability.

Carbon monoxide and smoke alarms save lives. On average, seven people die every day from a home fire. When a fire starts in a home, there may be as little as two minutes to escape. Carbon monoxide (CO) is the silent killer. It is a colorless, odorless, tasteless gas. Alarms are your best defense to keep you and your family safe.

Along with providing and installing free state-of-the-art detectors, fire and CO safety education will be provided to residents receiving these detectors. This education includes information about how an alarm works, how to test and maintain the alarms, what to do when they sound and general home safety, prevention and awareness.

Dover Fire and Rescue is committed to fire prevention, fire safety and fire education for all ages and demographics through a variety programs. The Get Alarmed NH program will help educate and protect the owner-occupied homes of our most vulnerable populations.

Program eligibility requirements:

- Single family owner-occupied homes
- Families with child/children under the age of five
- Adults over the age of 60
- Disability or hearing impaired

If you meet these requirements, call 603-516-6067 to sign up for this free safety program.

Woodman Museum now recruiting cast members for "Lives & Legends" weekend

The Woodman Museum is seeking people of all ages to be part of its cast for this year's historical re-enactment event, "Lives & Legends: Voices From the Museum", scheduled for Oct. 20-21, 2018. No previous acting experience is necessary, just a desire to take on a part as one of Dover's most interesting past citizens. Each speaking part is just a few minutes long so minimal memorization is required.

Many areas of the Woodman Museum's four-building campus will be transformed into character greeting areas and tour guides will lead groups along the route to meet these once-illustrious residents. Among the intriguing characters coming to life this year are: the man who shot the polar bear, a sea captain murdered by his mutinous crew, a Revolutionary soldier at the Battle of Bennington, striking mill girls, a New Hampshire governor, a famous minister, and a Purple Heart-awarded Dover nurse.

Organizers would like to invite any interested participants (men, women, children, teens) to the Museum's Keefe House on Wednesday, Aug. 8 at 6 p.m. to hear more about the event and how to become a member of our cast. Actors, guides, and backstage helpers are needed. If you can commit to one weekend (Oct. 20-21, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.) and recitation of a short speech while in period costume, we would love to have you join the fun. Help bring Dover history alive while benefiting the Woodman Museum.

For more information, contact Cathy Beaudoin at 603-516-6050; Dorothy Wagner at 603-817-4714; or Museum Operations Director Mike Day at 603-742-1038.

Harry Potter Day is Saturday

Eternal glory awaits you at the Dover Public Library's third annual Harry Potter Day.

Join us and participate in the Triwizard Tournament on Saturday, July 28 from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. for an early celebration of Harry Potter's birthday. The event will end with a Harry Potter trivia competition at 12 p.m.

Attendees will be whisked away to Hogwarts through Platform 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ where their personality traits will help to decide which house they belong to. After they are sorted, they will represent Hogwarts in the 2018 Triwizard Tournament against rival schools Durmstrang and Beauxbatons. Their training will begin with picking out the perfect wand at Ollivander's; practicing "nox"/"lumos" spells by making a light switch cover; and creating an owl companion to help them along the way.

Champions will try their hand at several "extremely dangerous" tasks. They must attempt to steal away an egg from a dragon in a Quidditch match; locate lost Hogwarts objects in a Scavenger Hunt for a chance to enter a raffle for a Harry Potter prize; navigate a maze to find the Goblet of Fire and put their name in the cup; and challenge Voldemort to a duel in the photo booth area. A Harry Potter-themed Escape Room will also be available throughout the day for those who pre-register for a spot. Attendees can then celebrate at the Yule Ball with some butterbeer and other refreshments.

Individuals dressed in their finest witch and wizard wardrobes are invited to participate in a costume contest to win a special Harry Potter prize at 10am. The contest is for all ages and a panel of judges will decide the winning costume. Another Harry Potter prize will be awarded to the winning team in the Harry Potter trivia competition.

In addition, witches and wizards can help "Feed the Muggles!" by bringing one non-perishable item with them to donate to the Harry Potter Day food drive. Each person who brings an item will receive a lightning bolt keychain while supplies last. The food drive will continue at the library until Saturday, Aug. 11. All donations will go to the Community Action Partnership of Strafford County's food pantry. The drive is sponsored by OWLS, a local community service group affiliated with the library, and a chapter of the Harry Potter Alliance.
