City of Dover Customer Service Center reopens

If you have visited City Hall recently, you may have noticed some changes. The Customer Service Center is open again and fully operational. The new Customer Service Center, which includes the City Clerk and Tax Collector, the Parking Bureau, and water and sewer billing offices, first opened in November 2017. This Customer Service Center offers "one-stop shopping" for the most frequently used services at City Hall, including billing, vital records, parking permit and voting.

Two months after opening, on a very cold New Year's Eve, part of the new sprinkler system malfunctioned, flooding the newly renovated space with three inches of water. Since then, the City has worked to repair the water damage, replace furniture, carpeting, and patch walls, all while maintaining the same level of service to the public. During the repair work, the water and sewer billing office, Parking Bureau, and Information Technology offices temporarily moved to the first floor at City Hall. The City Clerk's office was completed over the weekend, which allowed the office to remain open during regular hours. The City is now pleased to announce the Customer Service Center is completely open to the public once again.

Tuesday, Thursday,
Saturday
8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Work on City Hall continues. Old carpeting on the first and second floors will soon be removed and replaced with new carpet, allowing for the final move of City offices. Following the move, work on the expansion of Council Chambers will begin. This work will provide a more comfortable location for meetings with high attendance, and for historical features of the 1935 building to be viewed.

The City Staff want to thank the public for their patience and understanding during the remodeling, flooding, and reconfiguration work.

Alumni Drive to close June 25 as high school construction continues

Between Monday, June 25 and Friday, July 20, Alumni Drive will be closed to all traffic during weekdays between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. In addition to weekdays, two Saturday workdays are planned on June 30 and July 7. The road will otherwise be open to traffic overnight and on weekends.

The closure is required to accommodate work at the Dover High School construction project.

For more information, contact PC Construction Company at 603-232-9552 or to the Dover School Department at 603-516-6800.

Dover celebrates 4th of July with music and fireworks

The City of Dover's annual 4th of July fireworks display will be held on Wednesday, July 4, 2018. Fireworks begin at 9:15 p.m.

Henry Law Park and the surrounding downtown areas are the best locations to view the fireworks.

The fireworks display will be preceded by a performance of the 39th Army Band at the Rotary Arts Pavilion, from 7 to 9 p.m. Food and novelty vendors will be available at Henry Law Park.

The rain date for the fireworks display is Thursday, July 5, 2018.

Dover Main Street's "Hot Diggity Dog Day" is Saturday

Residents are invited to support downtown Dover businesses on Saturday, June 23, 2018 at the Cocheco Mill Courtyard on Central Ave.

The event was originally scheduled for June 2.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Dover Main Street will host Hot Diggity Dog Day, which will consist of hot dogs, cotton candy, popcorn, Sno-cones, soda, water, face painting, kid-friendly games, a dunk tank, food drive, raffle, and more.

Residents are encouraged to shop in downtown Dover during the event. Downtown merchants will host a summer kick-off sidewalk sale. Show your support by shopping small and bring a receipt from a downtown store to the event to get a free food item.

The event also supports the Dover Food Pantry. A free hot dog will be given to everyone who brings at least three canned goods to the event.

Don't forget to enter the Raffle in the face painting tent for a chance to win $50 Dover Dollars.

Dover Main Street and the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce, along with the Dover Economic Development Department, have been working on programs and promotions to increase foot traffic to the downtown area. Hot Diggity Dog Day and the Summer Kick-off Sidewalk Sale are two of those promotions.

For more information, visit Dover Main Street's website at dovermainstreet.org, or their Facebook page at facebook.com/dovermainstreet.

SEED welcomes new board members

The Seacoast Education Endowment of Dover (SEED), a nonprofit organization that supports academic excellence by delivering groundbreaking grants to Dover educators, recently held its annual board meeting and elected three new board members-Toby Arkwell, Cynthia A. Theodoras, and Markus Brave-each to serve an initial three-year term. The group also voted in favor of the following officer slate for 2018-2019: Karen Duffy (president), Sue Vitko (vice president), Patrick Duffy (treasurer), and Erin Tellez (secretary). The board acknowledged and appreciated outgoing members Bob Carrier, Sue Sheehan, and Allison Neal for their years of service.

A Dover native, Arkwell is an independent insurance agent and the owner of RW Health & Employee Benefits LLC. With a background in business administration, Arkwell is an active volunteer, serving for the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce, the Dover Children's Home, and Dover Baseball. In 2017, Arkwell received the Chamber's Volunteer of the Year Award. He currently resides in Dover with his wife, Kim.

Theodoras has served in the Dover School system for most of her professional life as an elementary level teacher, reading specialist, and as principal of Woodman Park School. Most recently she was an intern supervisor for the University of NH Graduate School of Education where she supervised and mentored students.

Brave is the deputy sheriff for Strafford County and has worked in law enforcement for 10 years. He earned his Bachelor of Arts in Psychology with a concentration in forensic psychology from Southern NH University. He resides with his wife Jamie and their three children in Dover.

"The board is excited to have Toby, Cynthia, and Markus join the team," said Karen Duffy, SEED incoming president. "They each bring a fresh perspective and share in our passion for making innovative educational experiences a reality at Dover's public schools. They will be great assets to our hard working group and we are all looking forward to the 2018-2019 school year."

Just a few weeks ago, SEED held its annual fundraiser where it raised $23,700 for academic excellence in Dover schools. SEED is underway with its endowment development campaign, Lighting the Way to Learning, a campaign to allow the nonprofit to fund grants for years to come. To accomplish this, the SEED board is committed to establishing a $500,000 endowment fund to fulfill grants in perpetuity. For more information, visit www.DoverSEED.org.

Volunteer with OWLS to help grow vegetables for the Cocheco Valley Humane Society

This summer, you can help animals in need by volunteering with OWLS, a community service group affiliated with the Dover Public Library.

On Sunday, July 1 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. OWLS will be working to revitalize Cocheco Valley Humane Society's vegetable garden. Many of the small animals at the shelter require a daily diet of vegetables to stay healthy. The vegetable garden will not only help to feed these animals, but will also offer CVHS a cost-effective way to take care of them. Some of the vegetables grown will include cucumbers, peppers, lettuce, and carrots.

The garden will be an on-going project throughout the summer, starting with weeding and tilling the soil, then planting and maintaining the garden. The first meeting will include an orientation from CVHS at 9am that will last approximately half an hour followed by work in the garden. Volunteers should wear comfortable clothes that they are not afraid to get dirty and are welcome to bring shovels, gloves, or any other garden tools they may need.

Anyone wishing to volunteer should sign up at <https://goo.gl/forms/eZ0ORiFZPK0hTJfC3> or by calling the library at (603) 516-6050. Participants will meet at the animal shelter, located at 262 County Farm Road in Dover.

Further group meet-ups for the CVHS garden will be posted on Dover Public Library's website (library.dover.nh.gov) and Facebook page (@DoverPLNH) and OWLS' Facebook page (@OwlsNH) and website (owlsnh.wixsite.com/volunteer) as well as in the newsletter. To sign up for the newsletter visit: eepurl.com/ccPiSf.

Please be advised that animals are on the premises, and there is a dog pen located near the garden so this may not be a good fit for someone with animal allergies or fear of any animals at the shelter.

OWLS programs are open to all ages (unless otherwise noted) and volunteers do not have to live in Dover or be a Dover Public Library cardholder to participate. OWLS is a member of the Harry Potter Alliance (HPA), a worldwide non-profit organization that uses the power of volunteering to turn fans into heroes.

This program and is free and open to the public.

For more information, visit the OWLS website at owlsnh.wixsite.com/volunteer or call the Library at 603-516-6050.

This week in DOVER HISTORY

The following events are recorded in "Notable Events in the History of Dover, New Hampshire: From the First Settlement in 1623 to 1865," by George Wadleigh, "Historic Rambles About Dover," by Robert A. Whitehouse, "Port of Dover: Two Centuries of Shipping on the Cochecho" by Robert A. Whitehouse and Cathleen C. Beaudoin, and several other historical sources.

For more on the history of Dover, settled in 1623 and the oldest permanent settlement in New Hampshire and seventh oldest in the country, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street; and the Woodman Institute Museum, Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information, located here.

June 28, 1723 - Men were impressed for scouting and cutting a road from "Winnipishoky" pond to Dover, and the Treasurer was directed to supply them with provision and ammunition, and that no sons under age or servants be admitted to take up any of their wages, without their parents or masters consent.

June 23, 1825 - The long expected visit of the Nation's guest, General Lafayette, was made to Dover at this time. Having come from Concord where he had been received by the Legislature, he was met near the Durham line by the Dover committee of arrangements and a large number of citizens in carriages and on horseback, among whom were about thirty young gentlemen, from 15 to 20 years of age, in uniform dress, and mounted, who added much interest to the scene. The General was introduced to the chief marshal, Hon. D. M. Durell, by Major Walker, marshal of the escort of Durham, who addressed him as follows:

General - The citizens of Dover, apprised of your approach to the neighborhood of their village, and of your kind intentions to afford them an opportunity of paying you their respects therein, have deputed their committee to congratulate you upon your safe arrival in this part of the State of New Hampshire, and to proffer to you the attentions of a select number of gentlemen to escort you to town. They have all requested me to solicit the favor that you will honor them with your company at dinner this day, at such hour as may best suit your convenience. To which the General replied, that he was greatly indebted to the good citizens of Dover, for the kind solicitude they manifested for his personal safety. That he accepted their proffered attentions to accompany him to town, and also their very polite invitation to dine with them. And said, he embraced the present occasion to tender to them and to their committee his best respects.

The procession was then formed and the General escorted into town. When on the hill near Capt. Dunn's a salute of 13 guns was fired by the Dover Artillery, stationed on Pine Hill. Two fine military companies, the Strafford Guards, commanded by Capt. Paul, and the Rockingham Guards of Portsmouth, commanded by Capt. Lafavour, performed escort duty. Amidst the joyous acclamations of a vast concourse of people who lined the streets, and filled the adjacent houses and house-tops on either side, the procession proceeded down Pleasant street to the Corner, where it passed beneath a grand arch, twined with evergreens and banners, and from thence onward to the new upper bridge, over which another arch was thrown, and so on to Franklin square, returning by way of the Landing to the Dover Hotel. Here the General was introduced to the committee of arrangements, the chairman of which, the Hon. William Hale, addressed him as follows:

General Lafayette: The Freemen of Dover, participating; in the blessings extended to the United States, in the establishment of their independence and republican government, will ever retain deep sentiments of gratitude for the distinguished and enlightened Patriots who in our revolutionary struggle voluntarily contributed their mighty efforts. To you, sir, who so eminently served us in the time of our utmost need, we mingle with the nation, the homage of our gratitude, and rejoice that amid the convulsions which have agitated the country of your nativity, your virtue has dignified and preserved you. We rejoice, sir, in beholding you as one of the most early, distinguished and effective advocates of that revolution that gave us liberty. We more rejoice in now seeing you a matured monument of republican glory, whose firm integrity has been alike impervious to the allurements of power, or to the frowns of adversity. We most cordially welcome you to our village.

To which the General made an appropriate reply, which was received with loud and repeated cheers from the surrounding multitude.

June 24, 1853 - Died, Miss Elisabeth Coffin, aged 68. She was a lineal descendant of Peter Coffin and the last retaining the family name in Dover. She lived and died on lands originally owned by her ancestor, and which had remained in the family for 200 years.
