Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday, Nov. 4, at 2 a.m. It's a good time to change and test the batteries in smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors.

Dover Fire and Rescue reminds residents that one simple step can help save their lives and the lives of those around them. Everyone is encouraged to use the extra hour they "gain" from Daylight Saving Time to change the batteries in smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors, test alarms and remind friends, family, neighbors and fellow community members to do the same.

"Eighty percent of child fire fatalities occur in homes without working smoke alarms," said Dover Fire Chief Eric Hagman. "It's a tragic statistic that could be reduced by adopting the simple habit of changing your batteries when you change your clocks."

According to the National Fire Protection Agency, 71 percent of smoke alarms which failed to operate had missing, disconnected or dead batteries. Changing smoke alarm batteries at least once a year, testing those alarms and reminding others to do the same are some of the simplest, most effective ways to reduce these tragic deaths and injuries.

"The peak time for home fire fatalities is between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m., when most families are sleeping," Hagman said. "Smoke alarm maintenance is a simple, effective way to reduce home fire deaths. Children and senior citizens are most at risk, and a working smoke alarm can give them the extra seconds they need to get out safely."

A working smoke detector doubles your chance of surviving a home fire.

For more information about fire safety, call Dover Fire and Rescue at 603-516-6148.

City transitions to storm-based winter parking bans

Earlier this year, the City Council approved a change in the city's winter parking ban procedures. Parking bans will now be determined on a storm-by-storm basis.

When required for snow plowing or cleanup, the Community Services Director will declare a parking ban by 3 p.m. The ban will then take effect at 10 p.m. citywide, except downtown, which will begin at 1 a.m. the following morning.

When a declared parking ban is in effect, parking on city streets is prohibited. Any vehicle parked on the street, sidewalk or adjacent public parking area during a declared parking ban may be ticketed and/or towed at the vehicle owner's expense.

For more information about winter parking bans, visit the parking ban page here: go.usa.gov/xPVk5.

There are a number of ways for residents to stay informed about weather-related parking bans:

Tune into Channel 22, where winter parking ban notifications will appear when declared.

Sign up for text alerts, which will be sent when a parking ban is declared, via the city's emergency notification system, CodeRed. Select "Parking Ban Notifications." You can access the sign-up page here: <https://public.coderedweb.com/CNE/en-US/BF3E3900491F>.

Sign up for email alerts at bit.ly/doverdownload. Select Parking Ban Alerts.

Call 603-516-PARK (7275) for the current parking ban status. (Will be activated Nov. 15).

The current parking ban status will be posted online at drivingdover.com and the city's winter parking ban page at www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/police/parking-bureau/parking-bans.html.

Follow the city's social media accounts on Facebook and Twitter for parking ban updates and status.

Parking ban declarations will also be sent to local media, including newspaper, radio and television outlets.

The new storm-based parking ban ordinance replaces the former winter parking ban, which was in effect from Dec. 1 to April 1.

For more information about winter parking bans, including how to sign up for notifications, visit drivingdover.com or contact the Parking Bureau at 516-6132 or parking@dover.nh.gov.

Notice of updated property
valuations sent this week

Notification of changes to the City of Dover's assessed valuation for the 2018 tax year have been mailed this week to all property owners.

The city's overall assessed valuation for the 2108 tax year increased by more than $312 million, or 9.7 percent, to $3.526 billion. Much of this increase is attributed to a robust home seller's market and continuing appreciation in residential value, as well as an increase in commercial, industrial and utility valuations. The combination of new construction and general property appreciation from recorded sales activity, overall residential valuations increased by approximately 9.4 percent and commercial, industrial and utility valuations increased by 10.6 percent. As a result, residential properties now make up 74 percent of taxable value, and commercial, industrial and utility properties comprise 26 percent.

Property owners are encouraged to review the updated valuation information, as well as property record cards, and contact the Tax Assessing Office with questions or for additional information.

Property record cards and other tax assessing information can be accessed in the Tax Assessing Office, located on the first floor of City Hall, during regular business hours, Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Property information can also be accessed through the city's website at <https://go.usa.gov/xPVjr>.

The Tax Assessing Office can be reached at 516-6014.

The updated assessed valuation for the city will be used by New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration to determine the city's tax rate. The DRA is expected to finalize the tax rate this month, before tax bills are mailed to all property owners. The first half of the tax bill is due in December.

Next Art Walk is tonight

The next Dover Art Walk is Friday, Nov. 2, 2018, from 4-8 p.m. In addition to the many participating artists and businesses across the downtown, vote for your favorite decorated pumpkin and enjoy live music by Spirit And Delight and David Corson at the Art Center during the opening night for "To End All Wars," and Tali Freed and the Mandolin at the Washington Street Mills entrance.

Visit doverartwalk.com/map.php to plan your route. Maps are available at any of the participating locations. Please note The Strand is closed this month, so get a free stamp at the Mills. At the Cochecho Courtyard, redeem an entry into the raffle for each stamped map location by 8 p.m. for a chance to win a gift certificate to Garrison Hill Florists.

Participants purchasing $30 or more of artwork will receive a special Dover Art Walk tote.

This Dover Main Street event is sponsored by Optima Bank & Trust.

For more information, visit www.doverartwalk.com.

Dedication ceremony slated for Henry Law Park mural

Dover-area residents and art lovers of all ages are invited to the official unveiling of the Garrison City's newest public art installation, The Henry Law Park Mural. On Sunday, Nov. 11, the Dover Arts Commission will hold a ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony to mark the completion of the large-scale artwork and introduce the artists who created it. The event takes place at 2 p.m. at Henry Law Park, 9 Henry Law Ave., Dover.

Created by a dedicated group of teens under the guidance of Dover artist Brian Cartier, and intended to facilitate a conversation about our world, the vibrant mural celebrates Dover's diverse cultural heritage using vivid color, abstract imagery, painted handprints, and inspiring text.

Working with Cartier in an after-school program, the teens took inspiration for the mural from their positive experiences living in Dover, their hopes and wishes for future generations, and a Native American Mi'kmaq (or Micmac) prayer about peace and healing among all people.

Brian Cartier

Residents also had a hand in the project during a community art day held earlier this year. People of all ages, backgrounds, and artistic abilities helped to illustrate Dover's increasingly diverse population and honored their family heritage by adding colorful handprints on a world map to show their state or country of origin. In doing so, they embraced the mural's themes of inclusiveness and community, helping to ensure that Dover remains a welcoming haven to all for generations to come.

This project was made possible by the New Hampshire State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Kostis Family, Optima Bank & Trust, Chinburg Properties, Sundance Signs, Dover Teen Center, and Dover Recreation Department.

About Brian Cartier

Brian Cartier is a New England-based visual artist working in many different mediums, small and large scale. The breadth of his work ranges from hand painted custom sneakers, to canvas, mixed media, murals and more. Cartier has an international client base and has been featured in venues and publications all over New England and along the East coast. He has also worked in mentoring roles with youth. Brian is constantly seeking to expand his reach as well as the range of his expression as he continues to challenge himself creatively. Learn more about Brian and his work at www.b-cartier.com.

About the Dover Arts Commission

The Dover Arts Commission is an advisory board to the Dover City Council tasked with developing and promoting programs, forums, and exhibits that highlight the artistic talent within the city. The Arts Commission works to enhance awareness of and appreciation for the arts through increased dialogue and citizen participation. Community forum asks, 'Do your children feel they matter in their community?'

The Dover School District, Community Partners, and Dover Listens will hold an action forum for the community at Dover High School on Thursday, Nov. 8 at 6 p.m., with doors opening at 5:30 p.m. This action forum is open to the public, focused on youth and their connections with people whether that be family, school groups or the community where they live. Parents, children, civic leaders, municipal personnel such as police, and business folks are encouraged to attend.

This event will build on work initiated in the Community Partners mental health series, the Dover Kids Cabinet, and the Dover School Community Engagement Initiative.

In the 2017 Youth Risk Behavior survey given to students ages 14-18, over 50 percent of children indicated they feel like they matter in the community, but over 20 percent of youth felt they don't matter.

For more information, visit www.communitypartnersnh.org.

Woodman Speaker Series: Jean Elson's "Gross Misbehavior and Wickedness"

The Woodman Museum will host its next Speaker Series on Thursday, Nov. 8, 7-9 p.m., at the museum, 182 Central Ave.

Jean Elson's "Gross Misbehavior and Wickedness" follows the bitter and public court battles waged between Nina and James Walker, from 1909 to 1916, which created a sensation throughout the nation, with lurid accounts of their marital troubles fueling widespread gossip. The ordeal of this high-society couple, who wed as much for status as for love, is one of the prime examples of the growing trend of women seeking divorce during the early 20th century.

Many of the issues raised still resonate today. Although the Walker case drew widespread national attention at the time, Jean Elson's book, "Gross Misbehavior and Wickedness," is the first book to recount what happened. The Walkers both came from prominent American families.

James Walker's father, Admiral John Grimes Walker, was a native of New Hampshire and had close Woodman family friends. His children grew up while he was stationed at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, and James attended St. Paul's in Concord.

James and Nina Walker returned to the area when James, a Navy lieutenant, was also stationed in Portsmouth. They sent their children to the local public schools. Nina Walker filed for divorce soon after the family left Portsmouth, and she declared that their stay here "proved to be the calm before the storm."

Children's Museum of New Hampshire PizzaFest and Silent Auction is Saturday

The Children's Museum of New Hampshire will welcome area restaurants to come up with their yummiest, most crazy pizza flavors and pit them against each other in a taste-challenge. Who will be crowned this year's winner? Museum guests and celebrity judges will decide during PizzaFest on Saturday, Nov. 3, 2018 from 5 to 7 p.m. Advance tickets may be purchased online until noon on Friday, Nov. 2. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Restaurants will be serving up both cheese and specialty pizzas for guests to sample and judge in the categories of Kids' Choice Cheese, Grown-Ups' Choice, and Most Creative. A judging panel will crown the Judges' Pick for Best Pizza, Best Crust and Most Creative Toppings. This family-friendly fundraiser supports the museum's education and outreach programs. There will be a silent auction happening during the pizza-tasting, so people can bid on a variety of items.

In addition, there is an online auction happening Saturday, Nov. 3 at 9 a.m. through Sunday, Nov. 11 at 9 p.m. at www.biddingforgood.com/cmnhPizzaFest. Items up for bid in the online auction include restaurant gift cards, memberships to local institutions, passes to local and regional attractions and more!

To learn more or to purchase tickets visit www.childrens-museum.org/things-to-do/events/pizzafest-auction.

No School - Teacher Workshop Day

Monday, Nov. 12
No School - Veteran's Day (observed)

The following events are recorded in "Notable Events in the History of Dover, New Hampshire: From the First Settlement in 1623 to 1865," by George Wadleigh, and several other historical sources.

For more on the history of Dover, settled in 1623 and the oldest permanent settlement in New Hampshire and seventh oldest in the country, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street; and the Woodman Museum, Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information, located here.

Nov. 8, 1683 - Was exceedingly dark, from 10 in the morning, till two in the afternoon, which might be occasioned by a very black and thick cloud passing over very low. It seemed as though the sun had been greatly and totally eclipsed.

Nov. 7, 1774 - A town meeting was held to see if the inhabitants would raise anything, either "in money, fat cattle or sheep," for the relief of the poor of Boston, then suffering from the operations of the Port Bill. And it was voted that the town would "give something."

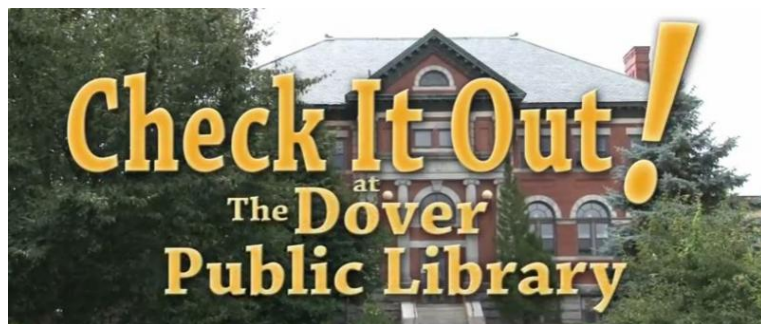

Nov. 2, 1789 - The town voted to allow the Society of Friends 13,000 feet of boards for their proportion of the money paid for the purchase of a bell, as soon as the same could be collected from the persons who bought the lots.

Nov. 6, 1818 - Died, Capt. John Riley, aged 66. His death was occasioned by a fall from the staging of a ship building in this town, two days previous, by which both his thighs were broken and mangled in the most shocking manner. He has left a numerous family to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father and true friend. (Strafford Register)

Nov. 5, 1834 - Drowned in the Cochecho, near the Landing, Capt. Moses P. Perkins, aged 40.

November is National Family

Literacy Month

The Dover Public Library will celebrate National Family Literacy Month during the month of November with lots of special programs and activities. To promote multiple generations of families learning together, The National Center for Families Learning has designated November for this purpose and offers many resources on their website <https://familieslearning.org/>. The library is also offering many programs, activities, and handouts to encourage families to participate in this worthwhile initiative.

Reading together as a family is one of the best ways to foster a life-long love of books. Any family that reads or listens to a book together during the month will be entered in a drawing to win a prize. We have multiple copies of five classic children's books available to check out or feel free to choose any story that interests your family.

On Saturday, Nov. 3 at 11 a.m., a member of Coyote Club Wildlife Education will lead families on a Nature Scavenger Hunt on the Dover Community Trail. Search for wild edibles, animal tracks and signs, and identify trees. Come dressed and ready for a fun outdoor adventure. We will meet at the Watson Road entrance of the trail.

The Storywalk, "We're Going on a Bear Hunt" by Michael Rosen, will be set up on the library's front lawn on Saturday, Nov. 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. StoryWalk is an innovative and delightful way for children - and adults! - to enjoy reading and the outdoors at the same time. Laminated pages from a children's book are attached to wooden stakes, which are installed along an outdoor path. As you stroll down the trail, you're directed to the next page in the story. <http://www.kellogghubbard.org/storywalk>. After walking and reading the story, there will be crafts, activities, and a snack based on the story in the Children's Room.

Murphy, a certified therapy dog, will be available for listening on Saturday, Nov. 17, from 10-11 a.m. in the Children's Room for our monthly "Paws to Read" program. Beginning readers love to read to Murphy who is very patient and non-judgmental.

We will celebrate the release of the latest book in the wildly popular "Diary of a Wimpy Kid Series" by Jeff Kinney on Saturday, Nov. 24, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Crafts, activities, and snacks based on "Diary of a Wimpy Kid: The Meltdown" will all be part of the fun.

All of our programs are free and open to the public; no registration required. We will also have family challenges available in our Makerspace all month and handouts with ideas for activities for families to do on their own.

Learn "Tinkercad" at the Dover Public Library

Have you seen the Dover Public Library's 3D printer in action? It can print all kinds of small objects, most anything you'd like to design! And we're offering free classes to help you learn how to do just that.

Tinkercad is a free online application that lets you combine simple shapes to construct 3D models. These models can then be printed on our Ultimaker 2+ 3D printer. Our Tinkercad 101 class will show you how to combine, move, rotate, and even subtract shapes in order to construct your own 3D object.

Each student will create their own keychain which will be printed later on our 3D printer. Anyone with basic computer skills will benefit from this class - no artistic ability is needed.

There are two sessions of the class and advance registration is required. The class on Wednesday, Nov. 14 begins at 6:30 p.m. and is for adults and high school students (register here:

<https://dovernh.assabetinteractive.com/calendar/tinkercad-101/>). The class on Thursday, Nov. 15 begins at 4 p.m. is structured for grades 3 and up (register here:

<https://dovernh.assabetinteractive.com/calendar/tinkercad-101-2/>).

Join us at the Library and learn to create in three dimensions!

Local author to speak at the Library about her unconventional mystery

What do you get when you smash together two dysfunctional private investigators, a Romanian crime lord's vendetta, and a serial killer for hire? STITCHES, a first-of-its-kind mystery novel with LGBT representation, releasing Oct. 31. Samantha Simard's first foray into the adult fiction world is a scare fit for the season, with seamless tonal shifts and intriguing, memorable characters you'll want to read about again. Samantha will be speaking about her book at the Dover Public Library on Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 7 p.m. in the Library's Trustees Room.

STITCHES follows Jim Wolfe, a PTSD-riddled Army Ranger turned private investigator. Between his questionable relationship with a Romanian restaurateur's son, and investigating the disappearance of a famous musician's daughter with his partner, Scarlett Vaughn, Wolfe has a lot on his plate. When a string of grisly murders centering on college students grab the city of Boston by the throat, Wolfe finds himself entangled in more than one mystery. While Wolfe and his partner attempt to unravel the threads connecting the killings to their missing rock n' roll heiress, Sebastian Codreanu discovers how deeply his father is tied to the recent crime spree, and the Mass Art Murderer plots his masterpiece. Everything is not what it first appears to be, and everyone has a secret.

Simard, a Dover resident, is currently pursuing her Bachelor's degree in English and Creative Writing at Southern New Hampshire University. STITCHES releases on Oct. 31 on Amazon Kindle ($2.99, free with Kindle Unlimited), and is available as a paperback from Amazon.com and BarnesandNoble.com for $14.99, and in hardcover from BarnesandNoble.com for $24.99.

The program is free and open to the public.

For more information, call the Library at 603-516-6050.

Friends of the Library annual book continues

The Friends of the Library's annual, two-week-long, gigantic fall book sale at the Dover Public Library is under way.

Thousands of paperbacks, hardcover books, and media items for all ages are available. Many of the sale items are books donated to the library, while others are items discarded from the library's collections. Book sale prices were reduced this week. During week two of the book sale, Nov. 5-11, the remainder of items will be sold for the bargain price of just $1 per bag or boxful. Any leftover books will be given away for free beginning Tuesday, Nov. 13.

The library requests that no further book donations be made. Donations will again be accepted after Nov. 18.

All proceeds benefit the Friends of the Library, a 501(c)3 charitable organization which last year donated over $15,000 to the library for museum passes, children's and adult programs, furnishings and equipment. Applications to join the Friends of the Library are available at the library's circulation desk.

Membership is $10 annually or $7 for seniors. Friends who work at the booksale receive a 50 percent discount on purchases.

For more information, please call the Circulation Desk at 603-516-6050.

Mother Goose on the Loose in the Lecture Hall

Parents/caregivers are invited to join with their babies for a 1/2 hour early learning program specifically designed for children from birth to 24 months. Mother Goose on the Loose uses books, rhymes, songs, musical instruments, finger plays, flannel board characters, puppets and other props to help parents/caregivers develop the child's early literacy skills in a fun and joyful environment.

Friday, Nov. 9, 11 to 12 p.m.
Crossfit Class in the Lecture Hall

Matt from EverProven Crossfit in Dover will be here to lead a fun and informative crossfit session for adults. Child care will be provided while you workout.

Saturday, Nov. 9, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Lego Saturday in the Children's Room

Imagine, create and build with Legos and/or Duplos. Drop-in anytime between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to meet old friends and make new ones as you work on building challenges.

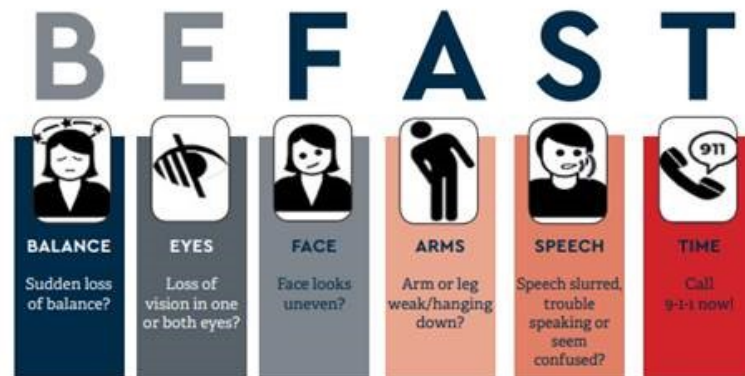

Saturday, Nov. 9, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.
StoryWalk on the Library Front Lawn

The StoryWalk for We're Going on a Bear Hunt will be set up on the front lawn of the library. StoryWalk is an innovative and delightful way for children - and adults! - to enjoy reading and the outdoors at the same time.

Laminated pages from a children's book are attached to wooden stakes, which are installed along an outdoor path. As you stroll down the trail, you're directed to the next page in the story.

Saturday, Nov. 9, 2 to 4:30 p.m.
Saturday Matinee in the Lecture Hall

The Incredibles 2: Everyone's favorite family of superheroes is back. PG
