Council to hold public hearing on school budget Wednesday

Council to take up other business, including equipment purchases, at Feb. 26 meeting

The City Council will hold its first fiscal year 2026 budget public hearing at its Wednesday, Feb. 26 regular meeting.

The public hearing is on the public education portion of the proposed FY2026 budget, which the School Board adopted at its Jan. 6 meeting. The public school's budget was presented at the Council's Feb. 20 workshop. A video recording and presentation slides from the workshop are available on the FY2026 Budget Revealed online resource, which also includes the School Board's budget meetings and documents.

The public hearing on all other portions of the proposed FY2026 budget will be held at the City Council's Wednesday, March 12 meeting.

Also on the City Council's Feb. 26 agenda:

- Authorizing the expenditure of $146,820 for the city's share for the Municipal Alliance for Adaptive Management. The Municipal Alliance for Adaptive Management is a collaboration of communities and stakeholders within the Great Bay that created an adaptive management framework to improve water quality and reduce total nitrogen in the Great Bay estuary and complies with the federal Great Bay Total Nitrogen Permit. It was founded by the cities of Rochester, Dover and Portsmouth, and its membership includes Newington, Epping, Exeter, Rollinsford and Milton. The Municipal Alliance is open to all communities in the Great Bay watershed.
- Authorizing the expenditure of $785,000 for a pumper truck for Dover Fire and Rescue. If approved, the new apparatus will replace the frontline service of a 2015 fire engine, which will in turn replace the 1995 reserve engine.
- Authorizing the expenditure of $149,610 for three new T450 T4 Bobcat track loaders. Community Services utilizes skid steer track loaders for various parts of its operations and are the primary units for sidewalk plowing and treatment.

The meeting will be held at City Hall's Council Chambers starting at 7 p.m. it will be televised and streamed online, where it will also be available on-demand.

Dover School District Assistant Superintendent Christine Boston, left, and Chief Financial Officer Michael Limanni respond to questions during the City Council budget workshop this week.

Budget deliberations continue

The City Council heard budget presentations from several departments this week, including Education, Executive, Finance, and Welfare. The budget workshop, along with related budget documents and presentations shared at the meeting, can be viewed at the FY2026 Budget Revealed online resource.

Following Wednesday's public hearing, the City Council will continue budget deliberations over the next several weeks.

Budget Meeting Schedule

All budget meetings begin at 7 p.m. unless otherwise noted.

- Wednesday, Feb. 26 – Regular Meeting: School Budget Public Hearing
- Wednesday, March 5 – Workshop: Police, Fire and Rescue, Recreation, and Planning departmental budget presentations
- Wednesday, March 12 – Regular Meeting: City Budget Public Hearing
- Wednesday, March 19 – Workshop: Community Services, Library, and DoverNet departmental budget presentations
- Wednesday, March 26 – Regular Meeting (Public can speak during Public Forum)
- Wednesday, April 2 – 6 p.m. Workshop: General Budget Review
- Wednesday, April 2 – Special Meeting: Budget Adoption (immediately following the workshop)
- Wednesday, April 9 – Regular Meeting: Fallback budget adoption date

During the budget season, City Manager Joyal sends a weekly newsletter that recaps any budget-related presentations and a look ahead to what will occur the following week. Sign up for the newsletter at bit.ly/doverdownload, and select "Budget Revealed" from the list of newsletters.

Current and former members of Dover Fire and Rescue perform in the 2017 Fire Safety Festival, "Safety Wars." Dover Fire and Rescue is bringing back the popular series to local schools later this year after a six-year hiatus.

Fire Safety Festival returning to educate and entertain local students

Dover Fire and Rescue seeks donations for popular event

After a six-year hiatus, Dover Fire and Rescue is bringing back its Fire Safety Festival, marking the 25th anniversary of its program that has helped educate children throughout the community about fire safety.

The festival's centerpiece is an original theatrical production written, produced and performed by Dover firefighters. The show will be presented to approximately 2,000 students from kindergarten through fourth grade at Dover's public and private elementary schools in May or June 2025.

This year's theme follows an uncle and nephew's educational adventure at Dover's Central Fire Station, featuring popular songs reimagined with fire safety messages. The production teaches essential safety lessons including "stop, drop and roll," emergency preparedness, and the importance of knowing multiple escape routes during a fire.

The department is seeking community support to fund the $9,000-$12,000 production costs. Each student receives a T-shirt, coloring book, and fire safety prevention materials.

Four sponsorship levels are available:

- Diamond Level ($1,500+): Exclusive donor listing on cast gift and premium logo placement on festival T-shirts
- Gold Level ($800-$1,499): Large logo on festival T-shirts
- Silver Level ($500-$799): Medium logo on festival T-shirts
- Bronze Level ($100-$499): Business name listed on T-shirts

Donations must be received by April 1, 2025, for inclusion on this year's T-shirts. Checks should be made payable to "City of Dover- Fire Safety Festival" and mailed to 288 Central Ave., Dover, NH 03820, or dropped off at any Dover fire station. Include "Children's Fire Safety Festival" in the memo line.

For more information about sponsorship opportunities, contact Dover Fire and Rescue at (603) 516-6148.

Previous performances, which have featured themes from "Shrek," "Toy Story," "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" and "Star Wars," are available to view on the City of Dover's website at <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/city-operations/fire-and-rescue/fire-prevention-and-safety/fire-safety-festival/>.

Great Bay Rowing will not pursue a boathouse city's waterfront development

Citing escalating costs, will seek new home for operations

Great Bay Rowing announced to the Cochecho Waterfront Development Advisory Committee that it will seek a new permanent home and no longer pursue building a community boathouse for its operations at the city's waterfront development.

Great Bay Rowing President Scott Bogle said at the committee's Feb. 18 meeting that GBR's board made the "difficult decision" after receiving the report of GBR's funded geotechnical study of the site. Bogle said that based on the results of the study, GBR estimated it would have to raise "at least another million" for site remediation and soil stabilization costs to build the concrete piers to support the building's foundation, bringing GBR's total estimated construction costs to more than $3 million. Great Bay Rowing has been working with CWDAC for the past few years to build and maintain a state-of-the-art community boat house. Bogle thanked the city for being a long-standing partner of the organization.

Great Bay Rowing has utilized the city's waterfront for more than a decade and played an instrumental role in contributing funds for the construction and installation of the paddle dock, one of the first pieces installed for the public park for the waterfront development. The paddle dock will be installed seasonally at the waterfront site once the shoreline stabilization and other site improvements for the public park are completed.

Dover Athletics Joint Building Committee seeks fundraising team volunteers

To help defray the cost of the upcoming athletic fields replacement at Dover High School, the Dover Athletics Joint Building Committee (JBC) is seeking community volunteers to participate in fundraising efforts for the project. This fundraising team will be led by volunteers, with JBC and School Board members Michelle Clancy and Craig Flynn acting as liaisons. Participation is open to anyone in the community passionate about sports.

If interested in getting involved, contact Michelle Clancy at m.clancy@dover.k12.nh.us and/or Craig Flynn at c.flynn@dover.k12.nh.us by Friday, March 7.

Meeting frequency and location (virtual/in person) will be determined by the fundraising team, with the first meeting taking place by the end of March.

To learn more about the project, visit <https://www.dover.nh.gov/government/boards-and-commissions/joint-building-committee-athletic-complex/>.

Bridge work necessitates intermittent closure of New Bellamy Lane next week

The New Hampshire Department of Transportation will close New Bellamy Lane to through traffic intermittently next week by the Route 16/Spaulding Turnpike overpass for bridge maintenance work.

NHDOT said the closure would be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 24-25, and Thursday, Feb. 27.

Crews will utilize jackhammers to remove deteriorating sections of concrete on the bridge. Another crew is scheduled for March 12 to apply shotcrete in those sections, which is a method of applying concrete projected at high velocity.

For more information, contact NHDOT at 60-271-3734.

Don't Trash Dover to hold Litter Collection Walk at Garrison Hill on Saturday

Join Don't Trash Dover on Saturday, Feb. 22, for a one-hour Litter Collection Walk, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Participants will meet at Garrison Hill Park, 10 Abby Sawyer Memorial Drive. The group departs at 9:30 a.m. sharp and returns to the same location at 10:30 a.m. sharp with litter collected for a group photo.

The Litter Collection Walk is open to all and is a great way to get some exercise and meet new people, while helping out the community.

Don't Trash Dover provides the bags and has litter grabbers and safety vests available to loan, if needed. Those with their own litter grabbers are encouraged to bring them. Gloves are recommended.

Volunteer boards help keep Dover vibrant

The City of Dover is a vibrant community due in large part to the significant energy and talent of citizen participation on the city's many boards, committees, and commissions. Input from these boards, committees, and commissions helps guide Dover's policy decisions.

Want to get involved? There are currently committees seeking members to fill regular and alternate member vacancies, including:

- Arts Commission

- Ethics Commission
- Heritage Commission
- McConnell Center Advisory Committee
- Planning Board
- Racial Equity and Inclusion Committee
- Solid Waste Advisory Committee
- Utilities Commission
- Zoning Board of Adjustment

The complete list of boards and committees can be found at www.dover.nh.gov/government/boards-and-commissions/

To apply, complete an application, available here and at the City Clerk's Office, and either drop it off at the Clerk's Office or email it to City Clerk Jerrica Vansylyvong-Bizier at j.bizier@dover.nh.gov. Applicants are welcome to apply to any board or commission. Applications are kept on file for one year.

The City Council appoints citizens to boards and commissions from recommendations of its Appointments Committee, which meets regularly to review applications.

Dover Download 'Question of the Week'

We want to hear from you! In each edition of Dover Download, we're looking for your response to our question of the week. A new poll will appear each week in Dover Download, along with the results for the previous week. Participating is easy – click on the link below to cast your vote.

This week's question:

"Have you ever used the Cooperative Alliance for Seacoast Transportation (COAST) bus system?"

Let us know here: <https://polco.us/mhwste>.

Please note that if you don't already have an account with Polco, the city's polling system, you will be asked to create one. Responses are anonymous.

Here are the results from last week's poll, which asked, "Have you used any of Dover's public fitness facilities, including the gym or Butterfield Gym at the McConnell Center?"

Have you used any of Dover's public fitness facilities, including the gym or Butterfield Gym at the McConnell Center?

The following events are from various historical records, sources, and texts about the history of Dover.

For more on the history of Dover, visit the Dover Public Library, Locust Street, and the Woodman Museum on Central Avenue. The Public Library also maintains an online collection of historical information located here.

Feb. 22, 1754 — Residents of Dover submitted petitions requesting the creation of an independent parish, which they proposed to name Somersworth. In response, the colonial Assembly appointed a committee to survey the area and assess whether forming a separate parish was justified. The committee was tasked with evaluating the land and community needs before making a recommendation. However, the petitioners were responsible for covering all costs related to the review. "Summersworth" had already been recognized as a separate parish in 1729, allowing residents to build their own meetinghouse and manage local religious affairs. However, the push for full independence continued, and in 1754, residents again petitioned for official recognition. After years of efforts, Somersworth was finally incorporated as a separate town in 1754, fully breaking away from Dover's governance. Later, in 1893, Somersworth became a city, reflecting its growth and industrial development.

Feb. 21, 1843 — Nathaniel W. Ela passed away at the age of 77 on this day. For nearly 50 years, he operated Ela's Tavern, a well-known and frequently visited inn located on Dover Landing. His establishment served as a key gathering place for travelers, merchants, and locals. During Ela's time, the Landing was a bustling area, central to trade and transportation, making his tavern an essential stop for those navigating the region.

Feb. 22, 1855 — The Piscataqua Bridge became impassable and was permanently closed after approximately 500 feet of its structure was destroyed by ice. Built in the early 19th century, the bridge was a crucial transportation link, connecting communities on either side of the Piscataqua River. However, like many wooden bridges of the era, it was vulnerable to harsh New England winters, particularly the movement of thick ice flows.

Feb. 23, 2002 — Plans were underway to move the historic Paul Wentworth House, originally built in 1701 in Dover, New Hampshire, back to the state after it had been relocated to Dover, Massachusetts, in the 1930s. The house, a significant example of early New England architecture, was in jeopardy of being razed, prompting the Dover Historical Commission in Massachusetts to explore options for its preservation. The house was originally constructed for Paul Wentworth, a member of a prominent New Hampshire family, and had connections to Revolutionary War patriots. The structure had suffered neglect over the years, and efforts to restore it were deemed impractical given its current location. Historians and local officials viewed this as a unique opportunity to return the house to its original region and preserve an important part of New Hampshire's colonial history. Following these efforts, the Paul Wentworth House was successfully moved to Rollinsford that same year, in 2002. It underwent restoration and became a centerpiece for historical education, now operated by the Association for Rollinsford Culture and History (ARCH). The house serves as a museum and community resource, reflecting the area's rich colonial past.

Feb. 25, 2004 — The Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce named Robert E. Marston as its Citizen of the Year, recognizing his lifelong dedication to community service and historical preservation. Born in Rockland, Maine, on Oct. 19, 1922, Marston was a decorated World War II veteran who served as a Staff Sergeant in the Army Air Force's "Hell Hawks" 365th Fighter Bomber Group. After the war, he earned an electrical engineering degree from the University of Maine and built a distinguished career as a consulting and sales engineer. A Dover resident since 1951, Marston was deeply involved in civic and historical efforts. He co-founded the Dover Heritage Walk, served as president of the Dover Historical Society, and completed a book on Dover's history from 1850 to 1950. He was also a state legislator, a longtime trustee of the Dover Public Library, and an active member of the First Parish Church. Marston passed away on Nov. 28, 2005, at the age of 83, leaving behind a legacy of service, scholarship, and dedication to New Hampshire's oldest city.

Dover Public Library hosts virtual discussion on cult psychology

Dover Public Library will host a virtual discussion with author J.W. Ocker about his book "Cult Following: The Extreme Sects That Capture Our Imaginations -- and Take Over Our Lives" at 7 p.m. Monday, March 3.

In partnership with Ashland Public Library in Massachusetts, the presentation will explore the psychology behind some of history's most notorious cults. Ocker will discuss groups including the Branch Davidians, who the FBI raided in Waco, Texas, and NXIVM, a 21st-century cult that operated under the guise of personal development seminars and attracted Hollywood actresses.

The presentation examines cults' power of attraction, the nature of belief, the need for belonging and the exploitation of trust.

Ocker is a national bestselling author of macabre travelogues, children's books and horror novels. He created OTIS: Odd Things I've Seen (oddtthingsiveseen.com), chronicling his visits to cultural, artistic, natural and historical oddities through articles, photos and podcasts. His work has appeared in CNN.com, The Atlantic, Rue Morgue, The Boston Globe, The Guardian and Time. Originally from Maryland, he has lived in New Hampshire for more than a decade.

The free event is open to the public. Visit library.dover.nh.gov or call 603-516-6050 to register and receive the livestream link.

The library has temporarily relocated to the McConnell Center during renovations of the main building. The Children's Room is in Room 305, while Adult and Teen services are in the McConnell Center's cafeteria.
